Art in Station

Artworks by established local and international artists are installed in the Hong Kong West Kowloon Station to enrich the station environment. Let's explore their locations and learn more!

Hong Kong West Kowloon Station Celebration Wall

Location: Level B2 – Arrival Concourse (near the gates)

The Celebration Wall comprises 3,315 photos of the High Speed Rail (Hong Kong Section) to commemorate its project completion.

Mountains & Rivers Without End

Artist: Wucius Wong; Hong Kong
Location: Level B2 – Arrival Concourse (near the gates)

The clouds, lakes, streams, plains, plateaus, mountains, valleys and waterfalls are all created from the artist's mind. The work demonstrates that it is possible to build landscapes completely from memory, and highlights the fact that people construct their own worlds based on their cultural and historical bias.

Rilic - 486

Artist: Om Mee Ai;
South Korea
Location: Level G – near Entrance/Exit F

The artist plays with the Kowloon landscape and culturally significant colour of red, using her abstraction to create a mural linking the station to Elements and the International Commerce Centre. Making for a powerful experience indoors for the viewer, the work can also be seen from outside the station, creating a visual delight in two different ways.

Horizon on the Border/Ponder on the Border

Artist: Tozer Pak; Hong Kong
Location: Level B2 – near Entrance/Exit A

The artwork relating to Hong Kong's border is presented in two halves in the subways linking Hong Kong West Kowloon Station to Austin Station.

The artist took an unconventional approach to mapping Hong Kong's border by looking to the sea for the undrawn line on the horizon. In the first part, the artwork depicts an artificial continuous horizon line set horizontally in the sloping subway. In the second part of the artwork, the artist has recreated maps of all the islands he visited to take the photos. Linked by a horizontal line of text, each island is represented in three dimensions, with the contours of the island carefully carved from a solid block of stone.

Limited Time Photo Booths
